India's first financial supermarket, Artha Money, has launched its operations in Mangalore with the opening of a branch in Bharath Mall.

Speaking to media persons here, Chief Marketing Officer of Artha Money Ameya Kapnadak informed that the company offers multi-product, multi-brand financial services and a single stop service that caters to every financial need of the retail Indian customer, right from investments like equity, mutual funds, real estate to life and general insurance, loans and cards to services like tax filing, bill payments and foreign exchange. There are 25 Artha Money branches all over India, he added. Chief Operating Officer Venkatesh Vaidyanathan was also present on the occasion.
